investigate the implications they...
jeffels hails grant increase

By WAYNE BUCKLEY

There should be more federal participation in education, according to Dean of Students Ronald Jeffels.

Speaking at the Joint Conference of the B.C. Student Leaders, he told the students as was supposed to "point the way to higher barriers" to higher education.

"The sole criterion of entry to any post-secondary institution should be the capacity of the student," he said.

The dean bailed last week's announcement of the increase in the federal operating grant for universities. The grant was raised from $2.00 to $0.00 per capita.

But the greatest problem facing universities today is that of providing sufficient staff, the dean said. This has been caused by the tremendous increase in student population coupled with the fact that it takes between 7 to 10 years to get a professor.

"Critical in the major force in our society for the advancement of higher education and Jeffels said, "Thank God the students of the University of Victoria are critical."}

CLASSICS PROFS VISIT US AT V

The Department of Classics has announced two public lectures.

On Tuesday, February 3, Leeds University Professor R. Wall will speak on "Alexandria and the Green.

On Thursday, February 4, University of Toronto professor E. T. Salmon will speak on "The Decline of the Roman Empire.

Both lectures will be held in Elliot 183 at 12:30 p.m.

ONTARIO STUDENTS

The vote against membership in the Canadian Union of Specialized Students, which was announced at McGill as the executive of the Students' Council has threatened to resign if the entire student body did not accept membership.

The vote membership in an organization could be nullified at McGill as the exercising of the Students' Council has threatened to resign if the entire student body did not accept membership.

QUEBEC (CP) - The 27,000 students of Quebec's Technical College and Specialized Schools who walked out of their classes January 17 to protest the extension of their school term by 3 weeks have returned to classes. The strikers are members of the Federation of Specialized Students of Quebec (FESSQ).

Their reasons for calling the strike were based on the protest of the Quebec government's decision to extend the school term by 3 weeks.

JANUARY BLUES

January 29th - 9 -

NEW CLUB TANGO

1037 VIEW

$3.00 PER COUPLE

SEMI-FORMAL

Rob Lineham EV 2-3397

Pharaohs EV 2-0994

Mohair blend cardigans for warmth, tremendous styling!

For the ultimate in good looks...pick this handsome mohair cardigan with knitted trim border, pocket and six glamming tailored buttons. Easy to wear v neck styling can be worn with tie. Excellent wearing mohair and wool blend in blue, green, grey, sizes 36 to 44, just right for the young man about campus or town! The Bay, campus and career shop.

Price $19.95

OLIVIER

O'TELLO

REAL ESTATE - INSURANCE - MORTGAGES

Conveniently Located at the

SANDRINGHAM SHOPPING PLAZA

3639 Shubie Street

Telephone 477-1855

3 DAYS ONLY

February 2nd-3rd

Even 8 p.m.

Mats 2 p.m.

MOTION pictures

Tickets now on sale

Matinees 500 Students 1.00

Eves. 2.00

Logs 2.50

The Martlet, January 27, 1966

panel discusses pills, fees, justice

By BERT HAUGEN

Birth control pills, the fee fight, and social justice were among issues discussed by a Question Panel in the Sub Lounge on Thursday.

The panel was sponsored by the University College Union (UCU). Questions were those submitted by students on campus to a question box in the SUB foyer.

Panellists were Dr. Donald Horton, M.D., a city practitioner; Mr. Loyd Mackey, pastor of Parkdale Evangelical Free Church and part-time student at UBC; Dr. W. R. E. White, Seismologist, Dominion Astrophysical Observatory, Vancouver, and Miss Joan Climenhaga, fourth year Arts student.

Question: "What do you think of "pill.""""Harten: "I use it myself in medical practice.

"We do have a population explosion and this is man's effort to deal with the problem. However, we don't believe in family planning" (i.e. in marriage). "We don't know the final outcome of the pill. It will take about 20 years to find out.""Will it have a rebound effect on the population function?""We don't yet know."

"Our Lord was somewhat of a socialist. He said, 'Whosoever will not 'can afford' or 'are good enough.' It is not consistent with this attitude to say only those who have the money will be permitted to attend."

"The fight is actually between the university as a unit and the government as the society at large."

Asked to comment on social justice and matters of war and peace, the panelists agreed that a Christian has a moral commitment to be involved in social issues.

"We should fight, injure, whatever authority we find it, summarised Miss Climenhaga."

The Martlet, January 27, 1966

THE MARTLET, JANUARY 27, 1966
THE MARTLET, JANUARY 27, 1966

LEADERSHIP

Much greater than the loss of our stand in the fee campaign is the loss of student confidence in the council. By this time next year, Able-bodied students will already have cast their vote either in favor of or against dissolution of the students' council at this week's hastily called general meeting.

We sincerely hope that vote will be one of confidence, not because we think the council necessarily deserving of it but because only mass pandemonium could result.

Student reaction to last Thursday's announcement by the students' council that they would pay the $3 late fine to avoid severe consequences is indication enough of general dissatisfaction.

The crux of the whole resulting mess is that those 700 students who had formed the hard remaining core of an original 1,000 wanted leadership.

They wanted someone to stand up before them and say we are going to do this or that" not we would suggest that you do this, but do what you want ... .

That is when the students' council lost its support.

This is when distrust and disaffection set in.

The council changed its position three times during the campaign. First they announced they would withhold until the council guaranteed they would not alter the fee; then they decided the 25th would be a wise move; and finally completely about-faced and chose the 21st.

Not once did they consult the student body. Not once did they make adequate provisions for publicity. It was a very nice little campaign the council ran. But the student body was not a part of it.

When the council did decide to confide in the students they called spokesmen one to two days in advance. Most of the real deliberating went behind closed doors at "in camera" meetings.

We are not against compromise. We realize that both parties to a negotiation must give a little. But where do our negotiations take us? What happened to our high-held campaign. First they announced they would withhold until you do this, but do what you want ...

FEES FIZZLED

Dear Madam:

The students' council wants support! What for? Another strike? More raised fees? Or will the council urge support from the students and what do they get in return except a stab in the back. Do they realize how many students supported them and then suddenly were forced to pay a $10 late fee, despite their inability to do so? Now I ask you - why should the students bother to support the council?

We thought that in a certain English course the book store refused to take back any volumes of a particular book the professor decided not to take up, even though most of the students had not opened it. Furthermore, they threatened to report the book store. I do not believe in就这样ing the students' council with a "play" of the situation they are in. I wish to thank the students' council for the wonderful job they have done this year.

Having attended the University of Victoria for five years, I feel that it is time I expressed my views on your university book store.

I have lived with the bookstores throughout its evolution from 1969, when it was just dusty books sold in the old students' union of Greater Young Building, to its aficioñado in the cramped quarters of the Paul Harris Building where maturity in the glass and floor-space atmosphere of Gordon Head.

I have always strongly maintained two meetings in regard to the book store: first, that their raison d'être is to serve the students; second, that it does that job with the least amount of possible waste of time and resources.

I have always been disturbed that the students are treated occasionally by two odd-looking depressing figures that hand out books, pencils and change with all the warmth and good-will of a Federal Finance Minister.

Do generals issue all their promises. The students' council has just now been organized to make any demands upon the services of the book store for ease, for we have no confidence in the book store. To con-

I wish, for instance, that the students' council would establish a simple little book exchange, and finally completely disaf-fection at every level. They need to manufacture a "play" political environment.

The students' council is not concerned with the students, but with the profit. There is no need to make the book store mandatory.

"Sniff ... what'll we do now ... sob ... they didn't like the act?"

A COUNCILLOR REPLIES

Dear Students:

Individuals feel that the end justifies the means, it appears that they would be able to change the minds of the Year of 700 students. Whether for or against, the students' council urges support from the students and what do they get in return except a stab in the back. Do they realize how many students supported them and then Suddenly were forced to pay a $10 late fee, despite their inability to do so? Now I ask you - why should the students bother to support the council?

The council has said it was acting in the best interests of students. We are confident they were acting in what the council felt was the best interest of the students. But do the students know that?

This is the most important crisis facing the council now. But there is still some hope. Some confidence can be restored to the students by the council's feet and support with action, any student who is expelled from this university as a result of the stand he took in the beginning.

There is some hope in our ideals going forward in the form of the constituent lobby just now being organized. There is still some hope that our pleas will reach the ears of those deafened by cries of "fees, fees, fees!" spreading among the students.

The students' council might check the paralyzing candidate restored if the council decides to stand up on its feet and the students know that they thought was the best interest of the students. But do they realize how many students supported them and then Suddenly were forced to pay a $10 late fee, despite their inability to do so? Now I ask you - why should the students bother to support the council?

As long as the students' council wants support! What for? Another strike? More raised fees? Or will the council urge support from the students and what do they get in return except a stab in the back. Do they realize how many students supported them and then suddenly were forced to pay a $10 late fee, despite their inability to do so? Now I ask you - why should the students bother to support the council?

We thought that in a certain English course the book store refused to take back any volumes of a particular book the professor decided not to take up, even though most of the students had not opened it. Furthermore, they threatened to report the book store. I do not believe in manufacture a "play" of the situation they are in. I wish to thank the students' council for the wonderful job they have done this year.
The Williamson Administration - An Early Appraisal

By Robert S. Mitchell

The first of a two-part series

Before the 1965-66 Students' Council leaves office (which might be in early May) there are one or two things which might be of use to this community. How effective has the Williamson administration been? Can Student Council leave office fully satisfied that gains have been made and that they are in a position to their successors a sound, efficient administration?

Last year's Council left behind some changes in the AMS Constitution which should result in a more efficient operation of the AMS. What went wrong? One change provided for the hiring of an efficient business manager.

Mr. Chudley, a man of talent, ideas and initiative, was given the job in addition to that to which he already held. Yet because of the rather nebulous instructions given to him by the Students' Council, Mr. Chudley is necessarily limited. I think it is a fair analysis to say that the AMS is not an efficiently operated organization; the society is not well run at all. The office staff is unaccompanied by ticket sales, a barrage of stencils and other odds and ends. Still it is difficult to ascertain any improvement in the operation of the Society's business.

The other constitutional amendment of significance was the establishment of the Activities Co-ordinator under an activities co-ordinator. Due to the efforts of the other-branch-activities co-ordinator, Gordon Fullard, a reasonably good programme of special events was drawn up — but then the complications arose. How can a special events programme be planned when the budget has not even been prepared? How can a council such as the Activities Council function without some sort of guide? Yet the Activities Council was supposed to function on that basis and it did not have any sort of constitution until a crisis within that council forced the Students' Council to act. Certainly this cannot be deemed efficient administration.

I will grant, however, that the Clubs' Council under Steve Bigsby has shown a marvellous improvement over last year's. In that department alone there seems to be an efficient handling of the administrative problems. The ingenuity of this member of council, however, has to be overshadowed by the lack of the same in his rather weak and inefficient colleagues.

We will remember this year for a number of things, however. This year probably marks the greatest number of cancellations of special events in the history of the AMS. This year saw the return of a model parliament to campus. This is the year that the Activities Council assumed all the personality clashes which in other years has been the affairs of the Students' Council. And this is the year that we marched...
Mock Politics, Model Politicians, Platforms, Promises and Hot Air

By DON KILLAM

They're off in a fine mist of philosophies, platforms, promises and hot air.

The campaign for seats in the first Model Parliament at the University of Victoria moved into high gear last week with the forming of party platforms, and philosophies took hold of the student body, with posters plastered all over campus.

The Social Credit government in B.C. is the best government in the country receiving it.

The Social Credit government in B.C. is the best government in the country receiving it.

The Liberal Party

The Liberals on campus are dedicated to making this "a model of what a parliament should be, not a mockery like the one we now have." said campus Liberal Brian A. Smith. This is the basis of the party's "Model 1968" slogan.

"We have the basic philosophy as the federal party but improvements could be made," he said.

The Liberals advocate bilingualism and bilingualism, an embargo system and guarantee legal counsel. They want a lower voting age and abolished campaign costs, an expanded adult education program, and grants to post-secondary students according to their cost.

"They hope to increase foreign aid programs involving trained Canadian personnel and aid the provinces to establish and run medical programs.

The New Democratic Party

The New Democrats on campus have decided that we should get out from under the shadow of the U.S. According to NDP campaign head Stephen Horn, Canada should become a neutral nation and should avoid joining OAS decisions.

"We're for the people, we're against the status quo," said ND President Doug MacAdams. "Equality of opportunity is the right of every man and woman, and it must be in proportion to his ability and efforts," he wrote.

The Conservatives propose to maintain the profit motive and treat all provinces equally.

The Progressive Conservative Club President Doug MacAdams says in their philosophy that Canada could not influence OAS.

The Christian Atheist Party

The Christian Atheists propose that a national lottery, progressive income taxes, study illiteracy and increase in bursaries, a reduction in minimum and maximum security, and maintain the profit motive and the private ownership system.

The Liberal Christian Front with a Christian Atheist stance against the status quo and should avoid joining OAS and become a neutral nation.

"We're for the people, we're against the status quo," said ND President Doug MacAdams. "Equality of opportunity is the right of every man and woman, and it must be in proportion to his ability and efforts," he wrote.

The Conservatives propose to maintain the profit motive and treat all provinces equally.

The Progressive Conservative Club President Doug MacAdams says in their philosophy that Canada could not influence OAS.

The Christian Atheists propose that a national lottery, progressive income taxes, study illiteracy and increase in bursaries, a reduction in minimum and maximum security, and maintain the profit motive and the private ownership system.

The Liberal Christian Front with a Christian Atheist stance against the status quo and should avoid joining OAS and become a neutral nation.

"We're for the people, we're against the status quo," said ND President Doug MacAdams. "Equality of opportunity is the right of every man and woman, and it must be in proportion to his ability and efforts," he wrote.

The Conservatives propose to maintain the profit motive and treat all provinces equally.

The Progressive Conservative Club President Doug MacAdams says in their philosophy that Canada could not influence OAS.

The Christian Atheists propose that a national lottery, progressive income taxes, study illiteracy and increase in bursaries, a reduction in minimum and maximum security, and maintain the profit motive and the private ownership system.

The Liberal Christian Front with a Christian Atheist stance against the status quo and should avoid joining OAS and become a neutral nation.

"We're for the people, we're against the status quo," said ND President Doug MacAdams. "Equality of opportunity is the right of every man and woman, and it must be in proportion to his ability and efforts," he wrote.

The Conservatives propose to maintain the profit motive and treat all provinces equally.

The Progressive Conservative Club President Doug MacAdams says in their philosophy that Canada could not influence OAS.

The Christian Atheists propose that a national lottery, progressive income taxes, study illiteracy and increase in bursaries, a reduction in minimum and maximum security, and maintain the profit motive and the private ownership system.

The Liberal Christian Front with a Christian Atheist stance against the status quo and should avoid joining OAS and become a neutral nation.

"We're for the people, we're against the status quo," said ND President Doug MacAdams. "Equality of opportunity is the right of every man and woman, and it must be in proportion to his ability and efforts," he wrote.

The Conservatives propose to maintain the profit motive and treat all provinces equally.

The Progressive Conservative Club President Doug MacAdams says in their philosophy that Canada could not influence OAS.
Administrative Appraisal

(Continued from Page 4)

anyone ever does is criticise council. This year's council has enjoyed less criticism than any in recent years, save perhaps the efficient administration of Mr. Roger Devlin. But this year's council spent just a little more time doing its job, providing an administration for the AMS — I wouldn't even be writing this comment at the moment. But it hasn't.

next week part two

An Interview with Paul Williamson and John Thies

AMS is in perhaps the worst state than it has been in for quite some time — and things don't look brighter in the near future.

The public image of our society in recent years, and it will take some time to build it up again. It is the time that the students Council got down to the job of running the AMS. The least they owe their successors and future. In the near future, this ever job of running the AMS. The AMS that has enjoyed less criticism than perhaps the efficient administration of the AMS. The least they owe their successors and the future. It is time that the students Council put an effort to inform people as to whether or not the faculty will be a myth or a reality.

LETTERS . . .

(Continued from Page 3)

STOCK TAKING

Deserves an award. I have supported the fine fight and many of the council's actions regarding it, but the present situation is too hard to take.

Wg., the students have followed the council's lead and set up a stock taking. We are suddenly told that we must pay the $10 late fee in addition to the fine. It is not easy to believe what it was doing. They say they will try to help us with the money, but I can just see that idea being nothing like so many others.

In addition to the council, two other groups have reason for taking 44.1 of themselves. First off the 500 students who signed pledge cards have been worked out either because they did not put out the effort to inform themselves that the council would pay the $10 fee. Nor because they simply were too scared or lazy to do anything that required any risk, regardless of how small. Nice to stay on the well beaten track, you know? It's so safe. What strikes me the worst is that there are several got out without a scratch, while those with a little courage are stuck for late fees. We encourage the right traits of character at university. The other group is speak of is the Benedict Arnold Fine Arts Faculty. Not to mention the 497 students who have shot down. Students who are evidently common at university will soon be turning up some to build it up again. It is time that the students Council put an effort to inform people as to whether or not the faculty will be a myth or a reality.

LIKE A CATHEDRAL

Barrett Plays Despite Handicap

By BETH HAUGEN

Jennah Musicales of Canada presented Canadian pianist Deil Barrett in a concert last week. This was the second concert of the 1966-67 series.

Barrett found playing in Victoria's lounging auditorium difficult like playing in a cathedral. Barrett is double-armed but lost both arms in an acrobatic handstand he played a brilliant concert.

"This is my first trip west of the Rockies although I've done tours for JM in eastern Canada," he said in an interview before the concert.

"I left Lethbridge, my home town, in 1953 to study in London. After studying on scholarships at the Royal Academy of Music for six years, Dale went on to study in Italy.

"I was unable to find work in Italy, so I moved to Canada, where I have enjoyed less criticism than perhaps the efficient administration of the AMS. But it hasn't. The 1965-66 Musikantenfestival tour of Germany which he completed last year.

The German tour was for American Musicales. It was followed by a tour of eastern Canada including a lecture tour of the 1966-67 series.

WUSC Campaign Opens Monday

Can you spare 50 cents to support the earthquake-shattered university libraries, professional medical services, where there are now none, give students books from which to study, food to eat, shelter? World University Services of Canada is trying to raise $2,200 help provide this sort of assistance.

The campaign will be conducted between Jan. 31 and Feb. 15. Any student and members of the faculty will be participating in an elavie campaign to raise money to go principally to India.

TRAVELEYD TOURS

776 Fort Street

THE POVERTY STRICKEN VIETNAMESE

Leave up their hut this week and the Christian Athletes took over. They plastered it wild with posters in preparation for Friday's elections.

Faculty Of Fine Arts — Myth Or Reality?

By GINA BIGelow

The key to a faculty of Fine Arts at the University of Victoria is money, money, money. Since the summer of 1965, when an announcement was issued on the institution of a Fine Arts faculty at the University, very little has been heard concerning it. However, the senate and the present head of the Fine Arts Department, Professor Tony Emery, have been discussing the matter tirelessly since then.

As of yet, nothing concrete has been established. In the interview with Devlin, Had this question, "When do you think the Faculty of Fine Arts will be established?" He said, "I have supported the fee fight on the well beaten track, you know.

LETTERS . . .

(Continued from Page 3)

STOCK TAKING

Deserves an award. I have supported the fine fight and many of the council's actions regarding it, but the present situation is too hard to take.

Wg., the students have followed the council's lead and set up a stock taking. We are suddenly told that we must pay the $10 late fee in addition to the fine. It is not easy to believe what it was doing. They say they will try to help us with the money, but I can just see that idea being nothing like so many others.

In addition to the council, two other groups have reason for taking 44.1 of themselves. First off the 500 students who signed pledge cards have been worked out either because they did not put out the effort to inform themselves that the council would pay the $10 fee. Nor because they simply were too scared or lazy to do anything that required any risk, regardless of how small. Nice to stay on the well beaten track, you know? It's so safe. What strikes me the worst is that there are several got out without a scratch, while those with a little courage are stuck for late fees. We encourage the right traits of character at university. The other group is speak of is the Benedict Arnold Fine Arts Faculty. Not to mention the 497 students who have shot down. Students who are evidently common at university will soon be turning up some to build it up again. It is time that the students Council put an effort to inform people as to whether or not the faculty will be a myth or a reality.

LETTERS . . .

(Continued from Page 3)

STOCK TAKING

Deserves an award. I have supported the fine fight and many of the council's actions regarding it, but the present situation is too hard to take.

Wg., the students have followed the council's lead and set up a stock taking. We are suddenly told that we must pay the $10 late fee in addition to the fine. It is not easy to believe what it was doing. They say they will try to help us with the money, but I can just see that idea being nothing like so many others.

In addition to the council, two other groups have reason for taking 44.1 of themselves. First off the 500 students who signed pledge cards have been worked out either because they did not put out the effort to inform themselves that the council would pay the $10 fee. Nor because they simply were too scared or lazy to do anything that required any risk, regardless of how small. Nice to stay on the well beaten track, you know? It's so safe. What strikes me the worst is that there are several got out without a scratch, while those with a little courage are stuck for late fees. We encourage the right traits of character at university. The other group is speak of is the Benedict Arnold Fine Arts Faculty. Not to mention the 497 students who have shot down. Students who are evidently common at university will soon be turning up some to build it up again. It is time that the students Council put an effort to inform people as to whether or not the faculty will be a myth or a reality.

LETTERS . . .

(Continued from Page 3)

STOCK TAKING

Deserves an award. I have supported the fine fight and many of the council's actions regarding it, but the present situation is too hard to take.

Wg., the students have followed the council's lead and set up a stock taking. We are suddenly told that we must pay the $10 late fee in addition to the fine. It is not easy to believe what it was doing. They say they will try to help us with the money, but I can just see that idea being nothing like so many others.

In addition to the council, two other groups have reason for taking 44.1 of themselves. First off the 500 students who signed pledge cards have been worked out either because they did not put out the effort to inform themselves that the council would pay the $10 fee. Nor because they simply were too scared or lazy to do anything that required any risk, regardless of how small. Nice to stay on the well beaten track, you know? It's so safe. What strikes me the worst is that there are several got out without a scratch, while those with a little courage are stuck for late fees. We encourage the right traits of character at university. The other group is speak of is the Benedict Arnold Fine Arts Faculty. Not to mention the 497 students who have shot down. Students who are evidently common at university will soon be turning up some to build it up again. It is time that the students Council put an effort to inform people as to whether or not the faculty will be a myth or a reality.
Soccer Vikings Nil Gorge

By BRUCE MECKAN

The University of Victoria Soccer Vikings bounced off the field with perhaps the bitterest of afterthoughts, this time against Gorge Hotel.

In the beginning there was Lino Colombo and in the end there was Robbi Delmano as Delmano scored to secure the University goals. In the final few minutes, Colombo scored from close-in on a shot which had the unfortunate goalie no chance. Delmano scored in the waning minutes on a penalty shot in which he made no mistake.

Aside from the scoring, it was a long cold game to play. The University seemed to thrive on the cold and matched every rush of the opposition with one of their own. There could not be and there was no holding anybody's part and the entire team deserved credit for the win.

There were many shots on goal at both ends of the field and the outcome of the game was always in doubt. Twice in the second half, Gorge had golden opportunities to even the score. Once with a free kick close to the University goal and again on a penalty shot, the visitors failed to score. On the free shot the entire Viking team joined the defense to Site up in front of the shot, a block and a clearing shot and the situation was saved. The penalty shot went high and over the bar.

The Vikings play again this week at Gordon Head at 7:00.

Grass Hockey Goths Trip Shawnigan

Last Sunday the University of Victoria Grass Hockey Goths defeated Shawnigan Lake by a score of 3-2.

The first half was a bad one for the Goths as they allowed three times. However, they were able to retaliate only twice. David Craig scored both goals.

In the second half the Goths changed their lines and their style, increasing their effectiveness both offensively and defensively.

The games this weekend promise to be close, fast thrillers.

BB Vikings Unable To Hold Peninsula College

Last Saturday night the University Basketball Vikings fell to a 78-62 defeat at the hands of Peninsula College from Fort Angles.

The college team took the lead at the start and held it for the whole game. At the half the score was 43-31 for the Vikings.

This weekend the Vikings play two games against Bremerston. This will be the third team from the Washington State Junior College League that the Vikings have tackled.

In previous games the Vikings have done well, keeping within a few points of their opponents. The games this week promise to be close, fast thrillers.

The games are being played in the Gordon Head gymnasium Friday night at 7:30 and Saturday afternoon at 1:00. There is no admission fee.
experimental films

There will be a showing of experimental films on campus February 8 at noon in E-150. The showing includes five films made by the Canadian film artist Norman McLaren.

** **

SOCK HOP FRIDAY, 8-12 $1.00 per person $0.50 a couple

AMS cards must be shown

** **

martlet car rally FEBRUARY 20

** **

mid-term ski trip

Uvic Ski Club's actual annual mid-term trip to Green Mountains takes place from February 11 to 15. If last year's hassle is any indication, this trip promises to be one of the most enjoyable of the year. There is room for 75 skiers, and anyone interested is advised to attend the Club meeting in C-160 on Friday, January 8, at 12:30 p.m. Anyone wishing to stay at the lodge on Friday night must be a club member: Dues are $1.00 and must be paid at the meeting. The list of 75 is expected to be filled early, so sign up now.

** **

tuberculin tests

All tests are available to all students.

This test is one which everyone should have yearly.

A harmless substance called Tuberculin is injected into the skin on the forearm where it is easy to see the results — if there are any. From two to four days later the test is interpreted as "read".

The tests will be given on the Gordon Head Campus at the Student Health Services building for three weeks, starting January 17 between 10 a.m. and 3 p.m.

McCREARY ON CAMPUS

Dr. John K. McCready, Dean of the Faculty of Medicine at UBC, will be on campus on Thursday, February 3, for the purpose of interviewing students who wish to enter the Faculty of Medicine in September 1966. Would anyone interested in seeing Dean McCready please make an appointment at the counselling office, C-182.

** **

TWIRP Week FEBRUARY 7-10

The DUNGEON COFFEE HOUSE presents

The Blues by Five in Concert and Jeremy Long
Folk
Saturday 8:30-12 p.m.
SUB Lounge Lower

CLASSIFIED

Rates: 2 lines, 1 day, 50c. Larger Ads on request. Non-Commercial Classified Ads are payable in Advance.

For Sale, Miscellaneous

PHOTO EQUIPMENT, Dark rile. Enlarger, camera developing equipment. Sub, 477-2836.

Special Notices

Miscellaneous Wanted
Room and Board

AUTOMOTIVE & MARINE

RENTALS & REAL ESTATE

MAYFAIR SHOPPING CENTRE

Victoria’s Complete Shopping and Fashion Centre.

If you are without it, get with it at Mayfair

YOUR UVIC JACKET IS AT HUMBER’S SPORTING GOODS DEPT.

Heavy lined blue melton body with leather sleeves; slash pockets, snap closures. SPECIAL INTRODUCTORY PRICE $19.95

HUMBER’S OF BASTION SQUARE

The back page

the back page

OTHELLO, starring Laurence Olivier in the title role and Maggie Smith as Desdemona, will be shown at the Odeon Theatre on February 8 and 9. Matinees are at 2 p.m., tickets $1.00, evenings at 8:00 p.m., tickets $1.75. A limited number of tickets are available in the SUB main office and from English 100 instructors.

THURSDAY, JAN. 9--
- Venus Observed, two students for the price of one, Phoenix Theatre.

FRIDAY, JAN. 10--
- Biology Club, film "Island of the Blind", E-160, 12:30 p.m.

MONDAY, JAN. 13--
- Current History Club, general meeting, Manako Koga and Yukata Shimada will discuss Japan, 3218. Brighton Avenue (which is between Hamshire and Monterey), 8:00 p.m.

TUESDAY, JAN. 14--
- Chess Club, discussion of the proposed match with the University of Washington and the proposed to join the Northwest Inter-collegiate Chess League, Clubs, 12:30 p.m.

TUESDAY, FEB. 1--
- Othello, Odense Theatre, matinees; 2:30 p.m., 1:00; evenings, 8:00 p.m., E-170.

THURSDAY, FEB. 4--
- Ian Arrol will speak on his plans for Peace by Canada, SUB, 12:30 p.m.
- Othello, Odense Theatre, matinee; 2:30 p.m., 1:00; evening, 8:00 p.m., E-170.

THURSDAY, FEB. 8--
- SUNAC, Prof. Rosdy of Royal Roads, illustrated talk on Africa, C-106, 12:30 p.m.
- Othello, Odense Theatre, matinees and evening.
- Lecture, Prof. E. L. Salomon, Principal of University College, McMaster University, "The Anatomy of Roman Imperialism", E-160, 12:30 p.m.

THURSDAY, FEB. 8--
- Salmor, film, "Island of the Blind", E-168, 12:30 p.m.

FRIDAY, FEB. 8--
- Curling Club, discussion of UBC Bonspiel, all members please attend, C-169, 12:30 p.m.

TWIRP Dance

Thursday, February 10

9-1

CRYSTAL GARDEN

with

THE COACHMEN, THE MAYFAIRS

$3.00 a couple, tickets at SUB

** **

** **

** **

** **

CUS LIFE INSURANCE

Do you value your life above the toiled turmoil of today on campus? UVIC Life Insurance can help. Contact Dan Parker or Canadian Premier Life in Vancouver.

Empress Meters

JANUARY SALE ENDS SATURDAY DEC. 31ST NOW AND SAVE $5.55

900 Fort Street

Phone 382-7121

FOR DISTINCTIONAL HAIR STYLES

"Dermocare for Cosmetics"

June F. Lowe

MAYFAIR SHOPPING CENTRE

Douglas Street

Victoria’s Complete Shopping and Fashion Centre.

If you are without it, get with it at Mayfair