Chapter one of the plans for the development of Gordon Head campus is nearing completion as new buildings sprout here and there.

This composite panorama, taken from the roof of the nearly completed Science Building by daring cameraman Eric Hayes, gives a comprehensive picture of the new growth.

The second phase of the $7,000,00 project which will include classroom blocks, Administration buildings and the student residences should be well under way by the fall of 1964. Tenders for the lecture block of the science building are to be called within the next few weeks which will complete the first phase of the development.

The new library, scheduled for completion by next year, is now to the second floor and proceeding upwards at a regular pace.

Over its shoulder stands the Clearihue Building, now in the process of having one end painted (or so it would seem—there are signs of at least a gallon of paint being used).

Sublime in solitary splendour sits the Students' Union Building, just the other side of the circular road soon to surround the academic walking-campus.

In the background, forever we hope, are the "temporary" classrooms and offices in the old army barracks.

BIG BRAIN ARRIVES ON CAMPUS

By STEVE HORN

You've been replaced by a machine.

Its name is Model 1620, its gender is "transistorized," and its office is in the lower floor of the Young Building.

It's an IBM electronic computer which will serve primarily the Mathematics, Psychology and Biology departments, and possibly the Geomagnetic Surveys and Astrophysics departments of the Federal Government.

Acquisition of this ultra-modern piece of equipment will be on a rental basis, with an option of the University to purchase if its use is successful.

This method, though not usual practice, was selected, according to Dr. DeLoume, because of a 60% education discount and the application of part of the rental fee on the sale price.

OUR PAL "UNIVIC"

Dr. DeLoume, the main force behind the acquisition of "UNIVIC," as some wit has already named it, feels that a computer is as important as a library to a good university.

From experience with computers and computer programming, he believes that despite the chance of the device becoming obsolete due to the expiry of IBM patents in the near future, its modern construction, ease of handling, and use of a relatively low power supply will make it a "Best Buy."

Our monster will be delivered approximately October 15.

It will be a simple matter to move the machine to the Gordon Head campus when the time arises.

Oceanography Institute Benefit to U.V. Students

A federal oceanographic institute to be built on the University of Victoria campus within the next three years is expected to be a co-operative effort.

The $1,600,000 project will bring in about 160 scientific personnel to the campus who will probably make a considerable contribution to at least three departments—chemistry, zoology and physics.

Student interest in the allied scientific fields should be stimulated by the presence of the institute and certain students will probably be invited to accompany oceanographers on research voyages.

Students will have access to the institute's library on marine and allied research. A natural expansion in oceanographic studies at the University is expected to follow the announcement.

Architectural details and the acquisition of suitable land have yet to be decided on, but all buildings will tie into the general scheme and character of the University.

TENDERS NOT YET CALLED FOR

The Martlet was . . . gasp . . . wrong.

There has yet been no call for tenders for the Students Services Center as had been reported last week.

"There hasn't even been an architect appointed," complained Student Need Committee Chairman Lorne Priestley.

"How the hell can you call for tenders!"

Speakeasy

FROSH FLEECE?

Story by PETER BOWER

This year's "moderate" Frosh Week came in for some strong criticism when the Students' Council faced about 250 students at Friday's "Speakeasy."

"I don't think the 'Welcome Frosh Week' was fully accomplished due to the financial burden heaped on the Frosh," complained upperclassman Roger Barnsley.

After paying their tuition and AMS fees, he said, they are then required to pay $2.50 for a frosh hat probably worth only ten cents, and one ticket to the Frosh Dance.

He suggested that for improved attendance the Frosh Week sock hops be free of charge.

"I think a lot of profit is made out of Frosh Week and I don't think it's necessary," said Barnsley.

AMS president Larry Devlin replied that many expenses arise out of Frosh Week, including payments of dance bands, hats, supervision and renting of various halls.

Acclamation Rule of Day

By BRIAN CASE

Two of the five available Student Council positions have been filled by acclamation.

There are no standing nominees for the position of First Year Women's Rep. This means that under the AMS Constitution the Students' Council must now appoint someone to fill this position.

They would prefer to appoint a volunteer.

Her main task will be providing direct communication between the Council and first year co-eds. There are no additional formal duties other than attending weekly Council meetings.

This leaves only two contested posts for the Oct. 4 elections: those of Senior Year Representative and Men's First Year Rep (see election feature, page 3).

The new Special Events chairman Robert Taylor has the job of lining up entertainment for Tuesday noon-hours, as well as feature attractions for the various dances. Last year's chairman Lorne Priestley brought in such well-known groups as the Four Preps, the Cal Tjader Quintet, and the Travellers Three.

Daniel O'Brien, the SUB Director, is responsible for officially representing the Students' Council in all matters concerning the management of the SUB, as well as providing a liaison between the Council and University Administration.

Short and Snappy

VANCOUVER (CUP) — Chancellor Gordon Shrum of Vancouver's Simon Fraser University says his university will offer fresh, short, snappy education — able to be applied the same day if necessary.

He said students should be admitted on the basis of their ability to pass university entrance examinations.

He said professors should be hired for their "inspirational ability". Those who get standing-room only in their classes would receive raises; those who got the opposite in their classes would be fired.

Dr. Shrum also thought the new university should consider the purchase of tape recorders for students to take to class so that one man could take notes for a whole fraternity.

UNIVIC?

A University by Any Other Name Would Smell

by Pat Loveless and Jill Caldwell

What would you call the University of Victoria?

This was the question we put to students in an attempt to find a shorter name for the university which would meet with general approval. The two most popular abbreviations appeared to be UVIC and UNIVIC. UV and U of V were also mentioned. Reactions to the poll show the variety of thinking among typical university types:

"I think Vic. College sounds best."
"Old Vic?"

"The Place."

"Well, what's got sex to it?"

"I learned to keep my mouth shut."

"Vic something . . ."

"Who thinks around here?"

"I thought it (the poll) was on sex life!"

"I think it should be abbreviated back to high school."

COMPLETE CHANGE

Many, however, wanted to change the name "University of Victoria" completely. For example:

Victoria Academy

U. of L. and G.H.?

U. of L. and G.H.?

Vic. College University

Vancouver Island University

U. of L. and G.H. (Lansdowne and Gordon Head).

C.B.C. (College of B.C.)

U. of V.B.C. (Victoria, B.C.)

Nobody quite approached the ingenuity of Times columnist, Arthur Mayse, who suggested "Vicuna" (a near-extinct animal valued for its wool), and nobody came near the sense of "humour" possessed by our beloved editor-in-chief.

"Why not shorten 'UNIVIC' to 'Unic'?" he suggested.

CANDIDATES

Here they are — the candidates for the forthcoming election.

Only First Year men and the Graduating Class will be voting for their respective candidates. Although the number of candidates is not exactly prodigious, it is nevertheless important that all eligible voters cast a ballot to ensure best possible representation on the Students' Council.

GRAD CLASS REP.

MIKE BASSETT
By Bob Turner

The best candidate for the position of Fourth Year Representative is Mike Bassett.

He has had varied experience on councils from his High School days up to last summer when he was on the Summer Athletic Council of which he is still currently a member. Mike is also active in the Victoria Rugby Union.

Scholastically his majors in this, his graduating year, are zoology and biology thus displaying a very diversified field of interest.

This year, Mike, is taking only four courses which will leave him plenty of time to represent you and do his job well. This candidate has a tremendous amount of energy which is evident in that already this year he has taken an instrumental part in the Kangaroo Kourt, organized the car and sofa smashes and was a "crew chief" on the Log Saw.

All of these essential qualities, plus the fact that Mike Bassett has a personality which inspires confidence and makes him easy to talk to, points to him as the logical choice to represent you, the Fourth Year students, on the Students' Council.

GARY McLEOD
By Stew MacDonald

There is no novel way in which a well known person can be represented before the very body of persons among whom he moves.

To do this would only be reminding you of Gary McLeod's wide achievements; his valuable contribution to the Economics Club, the Commerce Club; his interest and participation in NFCUS and the national affairs of our university witnessed this year with a time-consuming trip to the National Seminar at Guelph and his academic achievement, rewarded by the presentation of the Hudson's Bay Co. Service Award and B.C. Government Scholarships.

Gary would be easy to present as a candidate for any office, and though his interest is primarily representing the 4th year students, he has the interests of the entire student body constantly in mind. As the first graduating class of the University of Victoria, we can make no better contribution in this crucial period of growth than to elect a worthy representative. Gary McLeod is this man.

1st YEAR MEN'S REP.

RICK OGMUNDSON
By Jane Bowering

Richard Ogmundson is the former president of Victoria High School. He was awarded the Leadership Cup for his outstanding qualities of all-round participation in student activities, his scholastic standing (91% average on government exams), his sportsmanship (captain of the Totems basketball team and goalie of the VHS soccer team), his leadership (president of said school, vice-president of Beta Hi-Y, and the brains behind the Booster and Block V Clubs), and his good character . . . to be chosen the best all round student in a school of 1500 speaks for itself.

Vote for Rick, who is backed up by former leaders of other high schools, if you want a person who sincerely puts all his effort into student representation and in return asks only wholehearted support.

JOHN SCOTT

By Cam Ellison

At last, the man for the job! Who's the man? John Scott. What is the job? First Year Men's Representative.

The First Year Class is fortunate in having a man of high calibre, a man who is mature, and willing to really pull for the First Year Class, as a candidate.

John graduated this past June from Courtenay High School with an average of 72%. He has devoted much time to clubs and other groups, both in school and out. In the DeMolay, he advanced to the rank of Marshal, which, for you who are unfamiliar with the terminology, is the equivalent of the head of the Armed Forces in a mediaeval court — indeed an important position. He has been active in Teen Town and the United Nations Club, to say nothing of groups within the Church. He is also a member of Comox United Church.

John also finds an outlet for his energies in swimming, where he gained a bronze medallion, and in skiing, and has long been an avid supporter of all other kinds of athletic endeavour.

He has also a great interest in public speaking, a necessary virtue for a representative. He reached his high point to date last June, when he advanced to the district finals of the Rotary public speaking contest.

Do these qualifications suit the job? Of course they do! Therefore on Friday, let us "Follow John."

THE PRANKSTER'S PRIZE

Who'll win the Maycock Trophy this year?

Awarded for the greatest contribution to university spirit, the trophy was first won by The Gun Club in the same year the Royal Roads cannon paid a visit to our campus.

The following year, during which a statue of the Queen disappeared for several days, the Gun Club became the Royal Gun Club but the ruggah team got the trophy.

When it was awarded to the girls' grasshockey team someone took exception. And the trophy. Its whereabouts are still unknown, but rumour has it that it will return when a worthy prank is pulled.

Hayward, Calif. (CUP)—A press operator at Alameda State College has told authorities that he printed about $4,000,00 in counterfeit money here.

Donald J. Carothers, 21, told secret service agents he had a key to the campus press "to work at night on overtime jobs."

Carothers was the fourth man picked up in what secret service agents called the largest operation in the history of the service.

Dr. Fred Harclerod, college president, described Carothers as "a nice young fellow" and a "hard worker."

The Special Events Programme gets off to a... er... novel start this year with the presentation of Shivaram, Hindu Temple Dancer.

The program, which is free to students, will include original interpretations of the "Kite-Flyer," the "Snake Charmer," and "The Peacock."

Also included is a demonstration of the Technique of Kathakali (translation of sung story into gesture-language and dance movement). Narration for the program, to be held October 8 at 12:30 in the Young Building Auditorium, and, is by Louise Lightfoot, Shivaram's Australian Impresario.

Program

1. INVOCATIONAL DANCE
The Dances makes salutations to the various aspects of God, offers lights and flowers and places upon himself the marks of the devotee of Shiva, Lord of the Dance.
2. DEMONSTRATION of the Technique of Kathakali.
Training for eyes, face-muscles, head, neck, etc., expression of moods, gesture-language and its Grammar, translation of sung story into gesture-language and dance-movement.
3. "KAMADEVA"
Kamadeva, the Hindu Cupid, is seen dancing in Springtime. The story is told of how Kamadeva shot his arrows of love at Lord Shiva during meditation.
4. "HERMIT"
A Parable-in-Mime inspired by poetry of the great Hindu poet Kalidasa. Miss Lightfoot narrates and Shivaram translates the story into Kathakali.
- INTERMISSION
5. "THE KITE-FLYER"
The Dancer depicts a little quarrel between brother and sister over a kite.
6. "SNAKE CHARMER"
The popular entertainer of India displays his snakes, cures himself of a venomous bite and solicits from the onlookers.
7. "THE PEACOCK"
The peacock awakes at the sound of thunder and sees the monsoon cloud. He senses the long-awaited rains and preening himself, he dances in delight.
8. "INDRA"
Indra, Lord of the Heavens, descends from his high abode. The Dancer interprets a legend of Indra from the Rig Veda.

SOCRED

There will be an organizational meeting of the Social Credit Club at 12:30 p.m. in Y316 on Tuesday, October 8.

All interested people are invited to attend.

NO "MICKEY MOUSE" LABEL FOR EDUCATION

NO MORE RYE

TORONTO (CUP) The Ryerson Institute of Technology no longer exists.

With the dedication and opening of a new 10 million dollar building in Toronto, the school became Ryerson Politechnical Institute.

Ryerson's enrolment in its first year, 1948, was a little over 200. Its present enrolment is 3,000.

By NEIL WILLIAMSON

Education students are beginning to feel their oats.

One hundred and fifty students massed in the gym last Tuesday for the first meeting of the Education Undergraduate Society (hereinafter referred to as E.U.S. in order to spare our typewriters).

They indicated strong support for their society, emphasizing that it is the largest A.M.S. subsidiary organization on campus.

And they struck out at the image of Education as a 'snap course.'

PUNDIT BETRAYED

"The campus pundit who selected the 'Mickey Mouse' label for education students merely betrayed his reading level," said Mr. W. K. Cross, guest speaker.

"Education students have an immediate purpose during their first year on campus, which is not always the case of people in the other faculties.

"To become good educators they must not only receive good training, but also acquire a basic understanding of the many other groups affiliated with the teaching profession. The E.U.S. will strengthen liaison between education students and these other groups."

CAFETERIA BOYCOTT PEACEFUL

By LISA BORENSTEIN The McGill Daily

MONTREAL (CUP)—Hundreds of students led by Pierre Marois, president of AGEUM (Assoc. Generale des Etudiants de L'Universite de Montrel) recently boycotted two cafeterias against express orders of the Rector, Monseigneur Irene Lussier.

The cause of the student protest was the cafeteria's price-raise from 75 cents to 85 cents a meal, instituted by the university administration to bolster its sagging budget.

Mgr. Lussier issued an open letter to the university preceeding the threatened boycott declaring that the AGEUM executive would be expelled should the belligerent attitude of the students continue.

Marois has said that if the Rector does expell anyone, "The whole student body would go on strike."

Mgr. Lussier stated that the University allowed its students as much as a voice in university affairs as any other university in Canada. He continued to say that the students' only reaction thus far has been one of discontent and abuse against university officials leading as far as open strikes and rebellion. He added that the reason for the 10 cent increase was that last year the cafeteria ran a $48,000 deficit. Instead of lowering the quality of the food, they were raising their prices.

The AGEUM executive does in fact declare that it is not fighting over a matter of 10 cents increase. The issue at stake is "the more serious one of principle." Said Marois in a special statement to The McGill Daily—"We the students, refuse to pay more than the original 75 cents per meal. We have been promised steps toward free education and suddenly our fees and the cafeteria prices were raised. All the protests we made, all our attempts at negotiation were disregarded by the university. Our boycott of the cafeteria is a formal protestation against these reverse measures toward free education, and against the university's attitude toward the student voice in campus affairs."

(The AGEUM executive is particularly angered over the circumvention by the university administration, of the faculty-administration committee specially established to deal with such matters as cafeteria increase in prices.)

PROTESTOR IN BLACK

The actual boycott began at 11:30 a.m., as students carrying placards with such quips as—"On N'est Pas au Kon Tiki. 75 cents c'est amplement suffisant pour nos appetits" (We are not on the Kon Tiki. 75 cents is sufficiently ample for our appetites.) filed quietly into the cafeteria to eat the regular noon-time meal.

The only catch was that although prices posted all read 85 cents, protestors received proper change from AGEUM cashiers and paid the old price of 75 cents.

One protestor against the protestors, dressed in black, paid the regular 85 cents.

Life in British Columbia is Wonderful!

PRESS ON

By ROBIN JEFFREY

Sports are beginning to roll around these ivy-covered (?) halls now. Representative teams began play in both rugby and soccer leagues this weekend.

The time has come, therefore, to air a grievance. Why is every representative team called "Vikings?" Not that I wish to disparage or degrade those of Nordic ancestry, on the contrary, some of my best friends are Vikings. I do wish to point out, however, that the Vikings took their lumps. A chap named Alfred gave them one helluva time.

So why is everything "Viking?" This system is horribly complicated as well as being punk public relations. The day will probably yawn some day this year when The Martlet will be able to report on the misadventures of four or five different sets of Vikings. Even Alfred would have had trouble with this.

The sports page will look more like the Anglo-Saxon Chronicle than anything else. Sample headlines: NAVY DEFEATS VIKINGS (Alfred always did maintain the navy was the way to beat the Vikings); NORSEMEN ROUTED BY VIKINGS (that was quite a brawl at the old Mead Hall Saturday night); and finally the head I'm waiting to write (may one of our opponents have a chap called Alfred): ALFRED'S LEADERSHIP LICKS VIKINGS.

This is fine, sayst thou, but what has this obnoxious chronicler to suggest. Well, fellow Anglo-Saxons, I think we should get away from this Viking business before we burn our biscuits or something.

While I hesitate to advocate a system that is used in anything so childish as a high school, I'm going to. One local high school gives each of its many teams an appellation beginning with "T".

The name is usually associated with Indians. So why not the same? We could have Vandals and Valkyries and Valhallans and Valiants and Vagabonds and Vanguardians and Varangians and Vanillas and Varlets and Varsoviennes and Vassals and Vavasors and Vehmerichs and Venerables and Vengefuls and Vermes and Vermin and Viscounts and all sorts of others.

Why if the thing caught on we could create teams in order to give them names. I only got to "ve" in the dictionary (Viscounts was an after-thought). We could even have intra-mural teams which competed against each other in digging up names for other teams. The whole thing could become an international mania; like hula-hoops and Social Credit and Daniel O'Brien. This thing is bigger than all of us.

But enough. I was in a world of electric dreams where one floats on rivers of peace.

Individual names would give each team a little character and in time the name would come to be associated with the sport.

So, gentle readers, there is my proposal, made in all seriousness. Sleep on it. Meditate. Then let us have your views.

VIKINGS VICTIMIZED

While the rugby Vikings and Norsemen were covering themselves with glory over the weekend the soccer Vikings were merely covering themselves with dust.

Vikings opened their second division season against Navy Sunday and went down 2-1 on the Gordon Head pitch.

Navy dominated play and Vikings managed only infrequent forays into the sailors' half. Blue-jackets got their winner on a long, lobbed shot which drifted over goalie Kevin Hull and under the crossbar.

Vikings notched their lone goal with only seconds left to play. John Dawson was brought down in the penalty area and Bob Moysey scored on his second attempt from the spot. The Navy keeper had saved Moysey's first effort but the referee ruled that the goalie had moved and Moysey made no mistake the second time.

The match was disappointing for Vikings who had been hoping for a big season. Coupled with Sunday's defeat came some more bad news. Ranjit Dillon re-signed with Victoria Wests and Mike Jolly has signed with Gorge Hotel's second division club.

So it looks like another long, hard soccer winter.

UBC's proposed $3.5 million Student Union building is still badly bogged down in the planning stage.

VIKINGS EXTERMINATE RODENTS, ROYALLY

There's an old and rather trite expression (and everybody knows how sportswriters love trite expressions) about starting things off on the right foot.

Vikings and Norsemen seemed to take it to heart Saturday as they opened the rugby season by posting twin victories over Royal Roads.

Getting trys from Bruce McFarlane and Ian Appleton and two converts from Bob Turner, the Vikings rocked the cadets 10-0 in the first division contest.

The Norsemen, playing in the second division, had things even more their own way as they pounded out a 46-0 win over the hapless Royal Rodents. Ben Sills grabbed three tries, two each went to Keith Gray, Bill Carpenter and Dave Bapty. Pete Reid, Clark and Mike Lawrence got solo three-pointers while John Todd booted five converts.

Fifty-six points for; none against not a bad start at all. Maybe they should quit while they're ahead!

Gangway, Mrs. Norris!

After last Friday's sofa smash and the previous week's car smash, one enthusiast made an interesting suggestion.

"Let's have a caf smash," he suggested.

BASKETBALL DIES BUT AC DRY-EYED

Basketball, the game that used to — almost — produce enthusiasm at this university, is dead.

The extra-mural basketball team decided to throw in the towel last week after two practices which saw turnouts of 15 guards, one forward and no coach.

In the grand old days of Victoria College, basketball used to draw a few fans. Players wanted to play for Vikings. They even had a coach. With this combination they won the Canadian junior men's title in 1957. But in the past few years the game has been steadily losing popularity.

Fans have become harder and harder to find. So have players and coaches. Student support last year reached the point where it did not justify the $1,500 expenditure which was made on basketball.

And the end came last week. Players who turned out to the last practice voted to call it quits.

The Athletic Council is not overjoyed at this, but it's not broken-hearted either. With the end of basketball the council has $1500 extra to play around with.

But there should be a twinge of regret among the students, past and present. "We are men, and must grieve when even the shade of that which once was great is passed away." That? On a sports page? Good Lord.

GRATH HOCKEY GOETH

The well-known "menth grath hockey" team exists no more. Public-relations conscious team members have changed the name of their game to "field hockey" to avoid the lisped title previously applied them.

NEEDS SURVEY COMPLETED

Following are some of the results of the Student Needs Survey distributed in March, 1963 by the Committee on Student Services, Lorne Priestly, chairman.

One thousand students were randomly selected from the total student population to participate in this survey. The figures quoted are accurate within + or - 2½%, and reflect the opinions of the general student body.

Following are some of the results.

Sec. B—FACILITIES

Do you think there should be a bank on campus?

Yes	66½%
No	19½%
No opinion	14%

If a barber shop were available on campus, would you have your hair cut there?

Yes	54%
No	46%

What services do you patronize during your coffee break?

Gordon Head Cafe	13½%
Lansdowne Cafe	76½%
Vending Machines	10%

Note: These figures are for the total population. There has been no effort to differentiate between those students who spend the majority of their time on the Gordon Head campus — or the Lansdowne.

Are you satisfied with food services as they are now?

Lansdowne: Yes	37%
No	60%
No opinion	3%
Gordon Head: Yes	89%
No	3½%
No opinion	7½%

Section E—RESIDENCES

Would you prefer one or two people per room?

One	56½%
Two	37½%
No opinion	6%

Do you think that students in residences should be restricted as to hours?

Yes	49½%
No	47½%
No opinion	3%

Do you think that members of the opposite sex should be allowed to visit private rooms?

Yes	26%
No	68%
No opinion	6%

It should be noted here that 16% of the women students were in favour as opposed to 36% of the men.

Do you think that "quiet hours" should be regulated in the residence so as to facilitate studying?

Yes	83½%
No	11%
No opinion	5½%

This question asked for an indication on the part of the student as to what rent they would expect to pay for room and board in residence. The results were as follows, (%):

	Dble. Rm. Month	Sgle. Rm. Month
$35 - $40	2½%	9%
40 - 45	11%	2½%
45 - 50	15%	9½%
50 - 55	8½%	21%
55 - 60	24%	25½%
60 - 65	15%	16%
65 - 70	14½%	4½%
70 - 75	5½%	6%
75 - 80	1%	4%
80 - 85	1%	2%

If rooms were available, and rent satisfactory, would you prefer To live in residence..... 89 To board in private home 7 No opinion 4

These figures would seem to imply:

The average student is very naive about the cost of housing and food.

The average student is overly optimistic of the value of the housing dollar.

This student has had little experience away from home.

It is the opinion of the committee that the Student Needs Survey has fulfilled its main objectives—it has provided some facts and figures upon which much of the planning for the expansion of the University of Victoria can be based. This survey also seems to point out some interesting facts about student behaviour and opinion.

POSTER REGULATION REMINDER

—All "for sale" or "typing" signs must go through Student Council for approval. Give proposed advertisements to any of the Poster Committee (Don Kirkby, Rolli Cacioni, Sharon Kirk, Mike Basset, Bob Taylor).

—All other signs must be signed by a Poster Committee member or by Mrs. Stark, the secretary at the SUB. Posters may be left either at the Guard House at Gordon Head or outside the Student Council office (upper caf) at Lansdowne to be signed.

—Posters that do not conform to all regulations will be taken down.

STUDENT EDITOR SILENCED

UNIVERSITY OF ALABAMA (CPS-CUP) — The 1962-63 American "student editor of the year" has been silenced by the University of Alabama.

Mel Meyer, whose editorials in the student Alabama Crimson and White during the anti-segregation riots the fall of 1962 gained international attention and drew repeated threats on his life, has been told by university officials that he may not "write upon or comment upon" any racial matters.

Failure to comply with the university's demands, Meyer said, will result in "severe disciplinary action" and possible expulsion.

The Alabama administration required Meyer and all other students to sign statements agreeing not to write or comment on any racial matters for publication. The administration would not allow Meyer to keep a copy of the statement he signed. When he appealed the policy he was told there could be no change.

AIMED AT HIM

Meyer said he felt the new policy was aimed at him. He said the policy would prevent him from acting as southern correspondent for the Collegiate Press Service.

According to a spokesman for the university the new policy only applies to the student correspondents on the campus. Edward Brown—director of the news bureau, said that the school "prefers professionals" to do the racial news writing and said that a claim that the policy would prohibit all comment by students was "silly."

The student correspondent ban, said Brown, was the result of long experience with student reporters and that there would be no exception to the rule.

When asked if the campus newspaper, the Crimson and White, would be allowed to carry news stories and comment on racial matters, Brown answered, "They certainly will. They always have. The paper has always done pretty much what it wanted."

CHAMPIONED MEREDITH

Last February, the United States Student Press Association, USSPA named Meyer the "student editor of the year" after he wrote a series of editorials calling for obedience to federal law in Alabama. The editorials appeared during and after the crisis at the University of Mississippi last fall when the first known Negro to attend the University, James H. Meredith, was refused entrance.

Meyer's life was threatened, crosses were burned on the lawn of his fraternity house and the university officials hired two full-time bodyguards for him.

"The thing that really bothers me," Meyer said, "is that this ban isn't just against writing about events at the university — it is a ban against all writing about all racial matters." Such a ban is an infringement on the right of freedom of expression, and invites censure of the university, Meyer added.

Meyer said that he signed the statement "under duress" and plans to continue his appeals against it. At the same time he will ask the newly formed Committee on Freedom and Responsibility of the Student Press to look into the matter. (This committee was recently set up by the USSPA at their 2nd Annual Congress in Bloomington, Indiana, this summer.)

GYM CLUB

There will be an organizational meeting of the Gymnastics Club Thursday night at 7:30 in the SUB, Club's room A.

Drinking

SUB ON DRY LAND

If you're feeling thirsty, better stick to soda pop, at least when you're in the Student Union Building.

Because if you . . . er . . . in-dole whilst within the sacred walls of the SUB, you may find it expensive and extremely inconvenient.

Students' Council members last Sunday approved a motion that anyone apprehended consuming alcoholic beverages in the SUB would be liable to a fine of $500 and suspension from use of the SUB and attendance at all AMS activities for one month.

Being a little scandal-conscious, The Martlet will also publish all information of any violation.

IS THERE WOMB?

(CUP)—The University of Waterloo student newspaper, The Coryphaeus, began the year with an interesting heading.

In big black type it read: "DR. HAGEY EXPECTING".

After that the subhead, "Record Enrollment at Waterloo," was quite anti-climatic.
