EVEN NUNS CAN BE LIBERATED.

Section in Contractor

Yesterday's nuns led a cloistered life. When they ventured out, it was two-by-two. Their roles were traditional and within church institutions.

Things have changed. The world, The Church, The roles women play.

Yet for one order, these changes are hardly apparent. Ever since the Dominican Sisters of the Sick Poor were founded in 1876, they have been engaged in pastoral ministry. They have always been flexible, Always self-motivated. Always had freedom. Why? By the very nature of their work.

The Dominican Sisters of the Sick Poor give free nursing care to the needy in their own homes. They travel alone by bus or by subway. Or by car, Or on foot, And their day doesn't end at five o'clock.

Each case presents a different problem: whether it is bringing physical or spiritual comfort, keeping a family together, counseling or bridging the gap between social agencies, we bring the love and devotion of Christ. We are in direct contact with the people we care for.

You see, we don't have to be liberated. We are.

THE MARTLET

The Martlet needs a new editor! Apart from being familiar with the many aspects of news reporting and newspaper production, a potential editor must be adept at pleading with people to write articles and must be able to co-ordinate production.

Applicants must be willing to submit a resume detailing their previous experience, and their conception of what a campus newspaper should be.

Candidates will be interviewed by both the Martlet staff and the Publications Board. Among other things applicants will be questioned as to their views on this year's Martlet and as to how they intend to change or improve the paper. Candidates will also be asked to state their views on staff-run papers and how they intend to delegate responsibility for both writing and producing the paper. An ability to work closely with people while under stress is an essential quality.

The job of Martlet editor is a time consuming one, demanding 40-60 hours a week. It is usually necessary for the editor to restrict his academic courses and extra-curricular activities. However if he so choses, the editor can attend summer school at AMS expense while publising summer editions of the paper. Winter session fees will also be paid as well as a salary of $75.00 a week.

Responsibilities of the job include the training and recruitment of writing and production staff, plus operation of typesetting equipement. The editor will also manage Single Finger Press.

Anyone interested in the job is urged to come in and talk to the Martlet staff. Applications will be accepted up until 4.30 pm Sunday, April 1st Candidates will then be notified of the time and date of the Martlet screening session.
